FROM THE EDITOR:

Here it is almost June Week and we look out our windows, and what do we see... birds? buds on the trees? cadets sunning on Vandenburg beach? No!!! We look out our windows and we see nothing. I guess we're all pretty used to nature getting in her last licks during June Week, and we can only brace ourselves for the worst.

This June Week issue of the Dodo is the product of hundreds of seconds of hard work by a staff which wouldn't quit... so I had to fire them. You're probably wondering who this studly looking character to the right is. I guess I'll just have to take this opportunity to introduce you to Hekan Getmor. Hekan will be entering with the class of '71 and feels he has the qualifications for being a cadet. We feel sure he'll be with us until next October.

To preview this issue I can say that you'll all enjoy some of the ideas we have for changing USAFA and our beware of the tourist" article. The jokes are as hurtin' as usual and of course our Dodo All Stars make their appearance. I hope everybody likes this fish-wraper in spite of the smell.

"Good Luck '67"

THE Dodo

All Stars

Morgan J. Donahue- It seems that one fine day (for us, not Navy!) last fall, our Middy friends found their nasty smelling goat missing. Well, Morg here was in the middle of the heist and you could say that he got it, and in more ways than one. After returning to USAFA, he decided to celebrate his good luck with a friend, and guess who should want to come see him about the goat-- none other than #1 on the Comm's team. Even though Morg got Navy's mascot, in the end the Comm got his goat. Needless to say, we of the Dodo staff think he's a great kid, and a deserving All-Star.

Lawrence S. Thal- Now, you're all probably wondering "why", and what in the world the projector is for. Well, for those of you who can remember there was an all-right taken for lost stag movies a while back. Lar here is the one responsible and for that reason I guess we'd have to call him USAFA's Cecil B. DeMills. It turned out that several people failed to see the humor in his all-right and Larry's movie career since then has been limited to Arnold Hall. Just as a sidelight according to our latest poll, we figure that Larry holds a very distinguished record--seven speeding warnings in one day! Not too bad for our second All-Star.

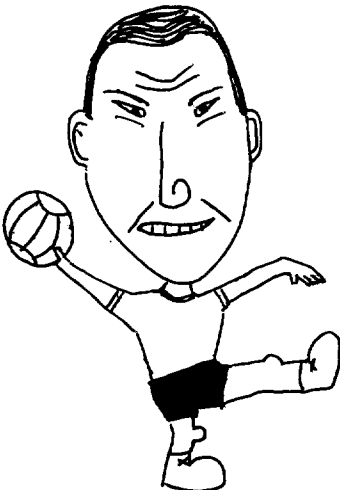

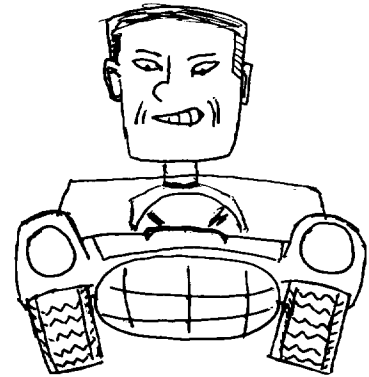

Gary M. May- The well-known president of Frat Five is a shoe-in for Dodo All-Star. A college man before he came to USAFA, Merl had the potential to be great. As the first semester squadron commander of Fifth Squadron, Merl was not known for his military bearing and high care factor. In fact the time finally came around when the rest of the firstclassmen in the squadron were signing out in Merl's room on the OTF log after taps. This was frowned upon by the higher ups as they had not received authorization from their AOC to take the privileges. By the way, Merl finished the semester as Projects Officer in charge of removing paint from walls.

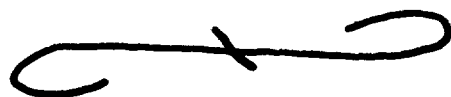

Frederic B Guerrina- Well, ole' Flick is Frederic B. Guerrina- Well, ole' Flick is the unanimous choice for Captain of our Dodo All-Star team, so once again he has taken up his favorite position. Flick was one of the more elusive stellar attractions at THE Party last June Week. It is hard to forget those skits at the football games where Flick tried week after week to land himself on the tour pad without success. In the past he had been much more successful in this field, though. After some thought, we the members of the Dodo staff decided that there was no place to put Flick but up front.

Gary L. Holman- Ever looked on "the Pad" lately? If you have, we're sure you'd recognize this All-Star. A member-in-good-standing of the double century club (200), he's walked a lot farther than to Greeley and back, and that's quite a ways from USAFA. One day while on squadron restrictions for Ac Pro, he got caught tube watching (the only time he'd looked at the room in about 4 months). Who should walk in but his then-not-so-friendly AOC. Figuring on getting "just bunches" for this he wanted to go have fun on his last weekend. He had a bright shiny vette and a girl friend whose daddy was a star. On the way back to USAFA he had a few problems in rounding a corner in front of a well-known general's house and took out a stop sign. Right now he has sore feet and with this in mind the Wing's own Parnelli Jones is the next Dodo A.S.

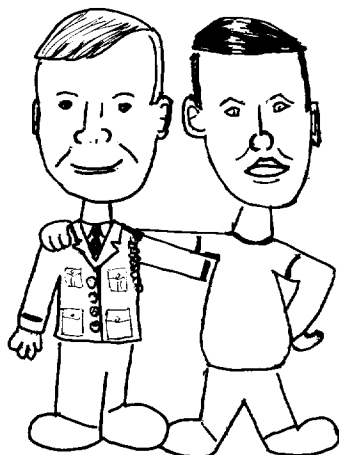

Fred P. Milanovich- As everybody knows, Milo is a cadet with a temper, and this spring he got his chance to become a Dodo All-Star. Seems as though he was on Bulldog 13's basketball team this spring when there was a disagreement about a call by one of the fefs and eventually the argument attracted the attention of every officer in the gym. Unfortunately Milo thought he was right and didn't particularly care who he was arguing with. We must admit, though, that like all Dodo All-Stars Milo was polite and invited the officer to attend his CDB. We're not sure whether the officer accepted or not, but if you look out the window on weekends around the tour pad you'll find our All-Star soaking up some rays.

Lloyd F. Duncan- infamous safety for the Falcon football team. Known for his motivation and many contributions to USAFA trivia. He has excelled in many sports including grommet pitching, hallway putting, penny pitching, and other recognized Olympic activities. It is really hard to put your finger on why Dunc should be an All-Star but I guess we could say that it's for the same reason cadets go out on dates... because it's there. We of the staff agree that Dunc is one heck of a guy and in his own way is an All-Star.

DISHONORABLE MENTIONS

Allan E. Mueller and Donald T. Painter- Even though these great guys aren't with us, they truly immortalized themselves with their actions while at USAFA. Al made a name for himself by dediding that he wanted to go to the flick while on CQ. The name of the flick was "Duty, Honor, Country". This cost him a little free time. Al is one of the few guys to go "Batbogganing" down by the gym during Call to Quarters. Anyone who knew Al could never forget his girl Hazel. She probably won more prizes and contests than any other girl in the wing.

Paints was the famous organizer of the Kennedy-Thomas Association which attempted to be another SDFC. He really doesn't have a great list of accomplishments to his discredit but he qualifies because of his devil-may-care attitude. Paints was especially known because of his immortal statement, "I'd rather be lucky than good" We really hope Paints luck changes and that he remembers us when he makes his first million.

SOME TIME, SOMEWHERE WHEN YOU LEAST EXPECT IT...

With June Week approaching, we are all aware of the increasing number of tourists visiting Colorado's No. 1 attraction. Some of them are "shutter bugs" and are likely to turn up anywhere. They will do almost anything for a picture of actual cadet life and you must be prepared to cope with the "Tourist" in many unexpected places.

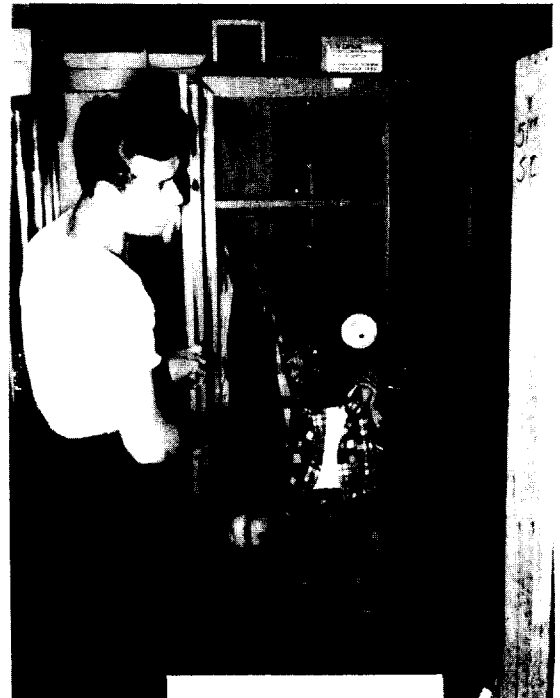

First, a description of our "Tourist" and his standard equipment:

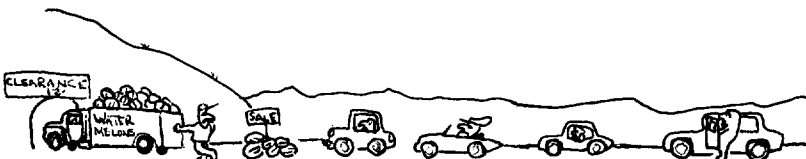

1. Typical Sam Snead type golf hat - never worn playing golf.
2. Official wire rim, polaroid, cool-ray sun glasses - usually worn in morning to protect shining eyes from bleary sun.
3. Ascot - after all, every professional tourist knows ascots are neat.
4. Madras Sport Coat - colors chosen so that none match ascot and make him look as inconspicuous as possible.
5. Tourist Camera - F1/11, isoflash, telephoto, variable sweep, and terrain avoidance. Original cost $13.98, now only $157.49.
6. Plaid Bermies that clash with coat. Not as crude as cut-offs worn in V-burg.
7. Tyrolienne knee-length socks, usually dark color so he won't be spotted by guards at night.
8. Official High School State Finals GT-68 track shoes. Spikes are optional for quick get-aways.

After four years of taking it from all sides, you'd think you could take a privilege without fighting off tourists.

"WHY ME??"

Normal fourth-class duties can be mighty dull. Our tourist catches some dools hard at work and they seem to be a little upset at his sudden apprance.

← "HANDS UP, OR I'LL SHOOT!"

The tourist catches some of the boys watching one of their favorite TV shows, the Ben Martin Show. Notice the wide-eyed enthusiasm.

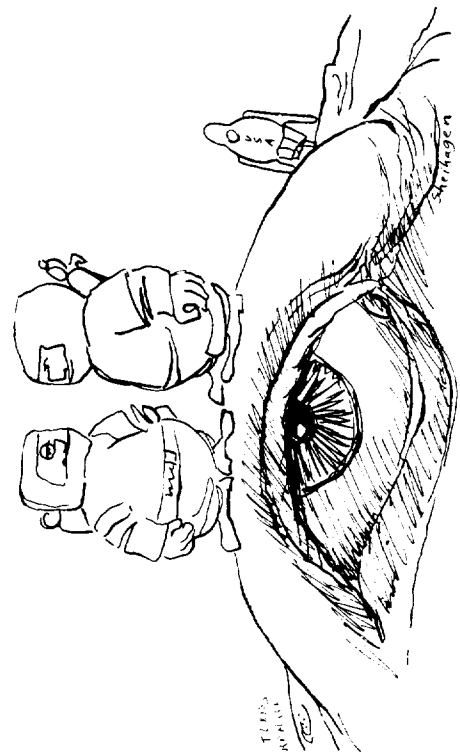

Even the ever-prepared defenders of Apple Pie, Motherhood, and Retreat (i.e. Security Flight) are caught in their natural, active state.

It seems like no one is safe from our many-colored intruder.

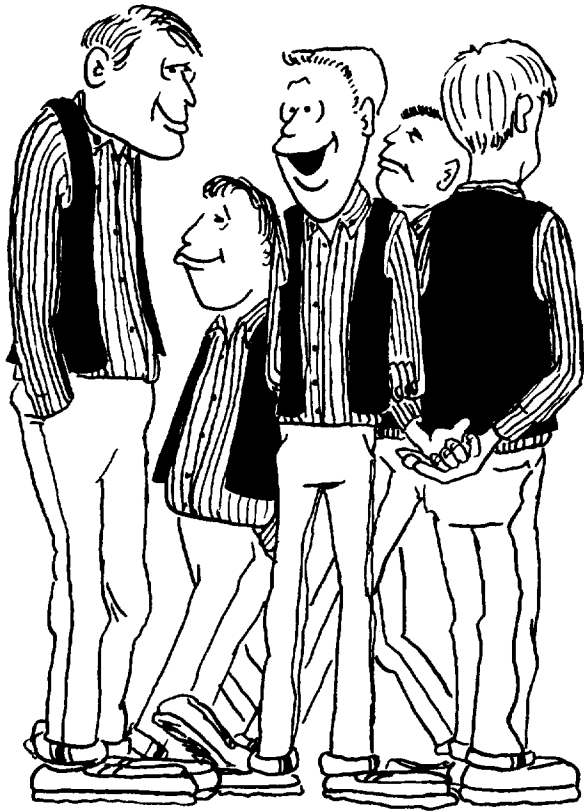

"REVENGE"

While sneaking up a quiet stairwell, the tourist finally gets shot down himself.

'This planet is obviously uninhabited!'

A DAY IN THE LIFE OF A CADET

But I'm not usually real quick in shaking the sandman and I felt like I was missing something all morning.

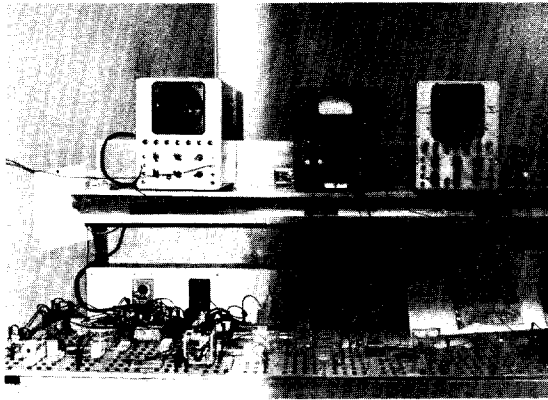

After a good night's sleep I stood around with the guys waiting to march over to Mitch's.

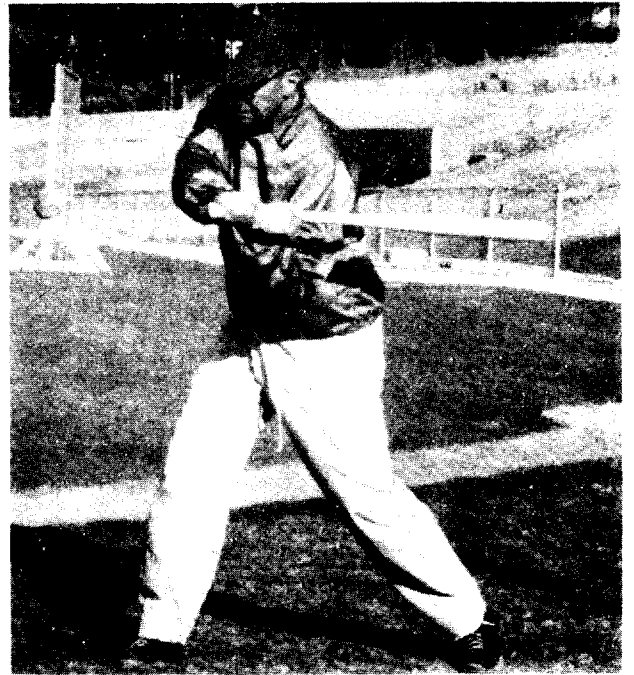

fun. Marching to meals can be Dress-2, Cover-1, Fins-3,...

Then there was my EE lab. I was doing alright, but partner on my right was having his problems.

With a good hard workout that afternoon, I was ready to take it on in.

← But first there was Patrolling.

"Here Snipe, here Snipe!"

Finally into the rack...
You figure it out!

Dots & Doodles

Irate father: I'll teach you to kiss my daughter.
Iggy Woods: You're too late, sir. I've already learned.

He: "Shall we sit in the parlor?"
She: "No, I'm too tired, let's go out and play tennis."

Driver of car asking directions: "I take the next turn, don't I?"
Voice from the back seat: "Like hell you do, just keep driving."

Susie married an official of the Three-In-One Oil Company. In about two years she gave birth to triplets. Upon hearing this, her sister immediately cancelled her engagement. Her fiance was an official of the Phillips 66 Company.

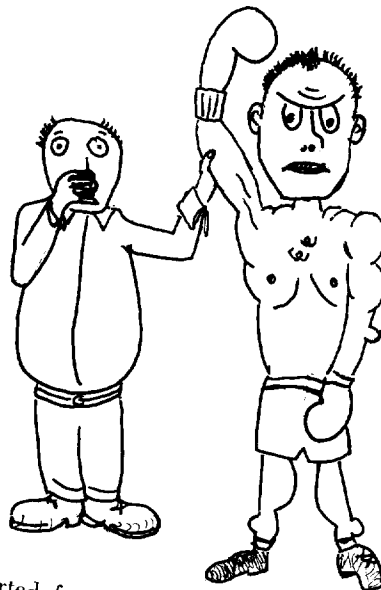

"Haste makes chaste. Remember, Rome wasn't made in a day."

Overheard on a shortwave radio set
"This is Radio Palestine 1550 on your radio dial. But for you—1495."

Overheard on the way to class:
"Asking her down June Week?"
"Naw!"
"I thought it was love at first sight?"
"Took another look."

A Cadet and his badnews blind date parted for the night and she whispered with a sigh, "I'll be home tomorrow night." He answered, "So will I."

"Don't you realize that I actually don't know who I am? I was left on a doorstep."
"Gee, maybe you're a bottle of milk."

Overheard: "I asked her if she was doing anything that night and she said she wasn't, so I took her out. Sure enough — she wasn't."

He: Are you a Giant fan?
She: No, just an air conditioner.

It was real sad about the fellow who fell into the cesspool. He couldn't swim, but he went through all the movements.

As a result of the trend toward liberalization of American college campuses, USAFA has fallen into step with a contribution to the "Free Co-ED movement that will undoubtedly rank USAFA as a pioneer among service academies. This newest form of integration is bound to meet with unanimous approval by the student body. Our roving photographer has come up with this cross-section of the new "WIMP"

(Women Incorporating Military Policies) program.

Not to be second-bested by SERE, BCT, BAT, UNCLE, or other sundry "whole-man" programs; the "WIMP" plan will appeal to all four classes as well as the Comm Shop, all janitors, DFA, and the Prep School. This system does, however, have its weak points for the C/MC (Cadette/Most Class). All personnel integrated into this system will: 1) March to class (see picture #1), 2) Attend regularly scheduled classes (see pictures #2 and #3) as well as being subject to the traditional hazards of the "whole man" training system (see picture #4).

It's not all dim for the cadette, however, there are the usual array of post-basic activities, such as M-class vehicle ownership(see picture #5) and the inevitable extra-curricular on-campus activities(as seen in picture #6) which will undoubtedly increase the slope of USAFA's new heights. While this program is doomed to meet with opposition from such influential agencies as the Office of the Wing Hostess, DFP, GAP, and the civil service staff, it goes without saying that this program's obvious benefits will overshadow the miniscule deficiencies. In keeping with the precedence established by the historical greats(SERE,etc) the opposition will be kissed off. The Dodo staff, in supporting this new innovation, feels that the "WIMP" program will find a place in every cadet's heart, not to mention his wallet.

YOU CAN NEVER BE TOO MILITARY!

the CHANGING SCENE

As with all progressive institutions (West Point and Annapolis don't fit in this category), the Air Force Academy will adapt itself to meet the needs that impose themselves in the future, although certain matters will continue to raise considerable doubt (for example, co-ed rooms and a cadet liquor establishment). And considering the remote possibility that cadets may even benefit from some of these changes, we all can cheer up and be assured that USAFA isn't the worst place in the world, although it sometimes tries pretty hard.

How many of you have ever suffered through a CDB? Haven't you ever felt the need for someone to represent your case---Perry Mason, your parents, your chaplain, your girl? Well, the Cadet Sob Story Service can handle your problem. No longer will you face the ordeal alone. Our qualified agent will pay adequate lipservice to the Board on your behalf, crying tears of blood or telling Groucho jokes, whichever is more effective. And in a matter of minutes, the entire board will be in tears. Our rates vary with the nature of the offense:

Liquor in room ----$50
Disrespect toward superior --- $75
Girl in room***We pay you $200
Lunar activity-----$175
Indifference-----25¢
Running stop sign-----$500

You may also participate in your own behalf (knee pads $2 extra). Shoulder pads and cushioned shoes are provided free of charge to ease your marching hours.

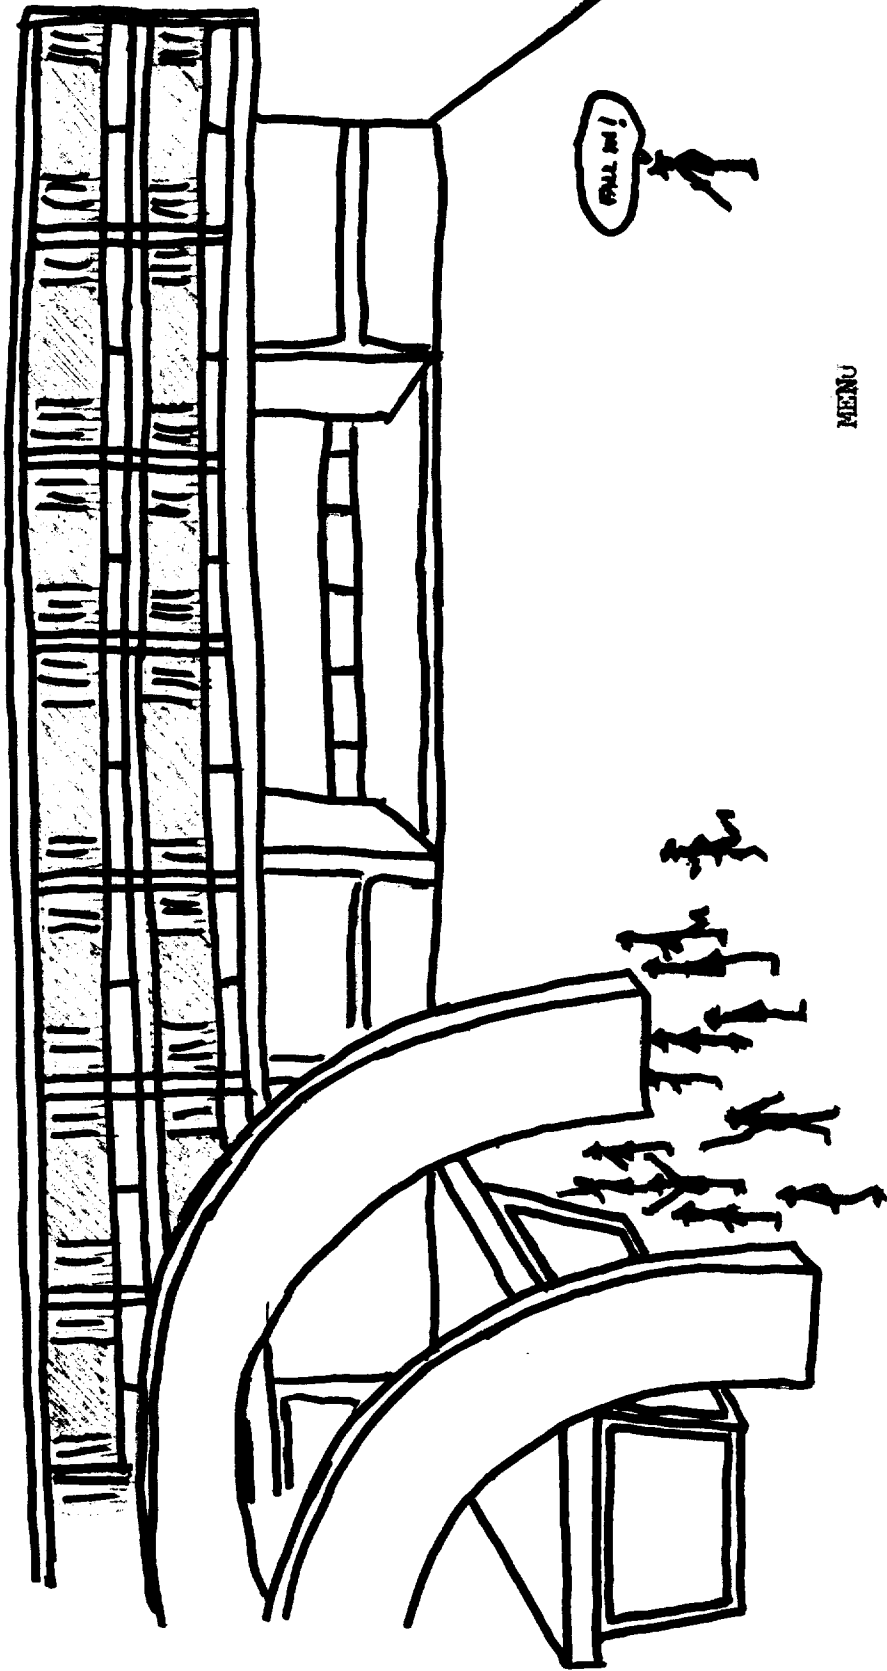

If you've griped and groaned about your problems to no avail, take heart; the Cadet Protest Service will make your complaints known to the higher echelons. This service specializes in a number of activities including airdrop of protest pamphlets over Pine and Douglas Valleys, daily picketing in the vicinity of the Honor Court, sit-down protests at the state Capitol, Bains; CWC, Loretto Heights, CSC, CSU, and Wasson High School, and the latest fad, the SMBYPR (Saturday Morning Bring Your Placard Rally). Soon it won't be uncommon at all to behold scenes like the one on the following page.

For first classmen who tire of the drab, routine sabers they are issued and desire more variety in their metalware, "Ye Olde Swordsmith" offers to suit the cadet's individual tastes by tailoring sabers in numerous shapes and sizes. Can you picture wing staff at the noon meal formation?

To add a taste of variety to meals, for those of you who tire of the "Ptomaine Tony" routine of eating at Mitch's day after day, the ultimate solution is "MacDonald's USAFA" "MacDonald's USAFA" offers the following specially tailored menu:

WHY IS THERE AER - O?

A cannibal, an inmate in a lunatic asylum, noticed a fellow cannibal tearing pictures of men, women, and children out of a magazine and stuffing them into his mouth.

He observed this for a few minutes. Finally he walked over and asked, "Is that dehydrated stuff any good?"

What about the moron, who killed his mother and father to go to the orphans' day picnic — and then it rained.

An ignorant young friend of ours cut off his arms the other day because he heard about a sale at the Co-op on sleeveless sweaters—and then it rained.

In 10,000 B.C., a primitive tribe settled near the Euphrates River, in a gesture of mockery they revolted, deposed their leader, captured a wild boar, placed it on the throne—and then it reigned.

"You can't beat the system," moaned the student after his last semester's grades. "I decided to take basket weaving for a snap course, but two Navajos enrolled and raised the curve and I flunked."

The wicked witch
LIVES!

"Mother, come quickly! Billy's eating all the raisins off the flypaper."

SLEEP WELL TONIGHT
YOUR AIR FORCE IS AWAKE

You need a little work on that PLF,
Sir.

Cop (to man just struck by hit-and-run driver): "Did you get his number?"

Pedestrian: No, but I'd recognize his laugh any place."

Last night I held a little hand,
So dainty and so sweet.
I thought my heart would surely break,
So wildly did it beat.
No other hand in all the world,
Can greater solace bring.
Than the sweet hand I held last night—
Four aces and a king.

A man called the undertaker one afternoon, and sobbed:

"Come and bury my wife."

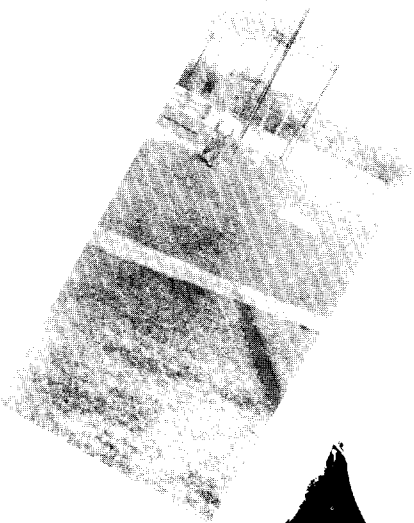

"But I buried your wife," said the undertaker. "Ten years ago."

"I got married again," the man sobbed.

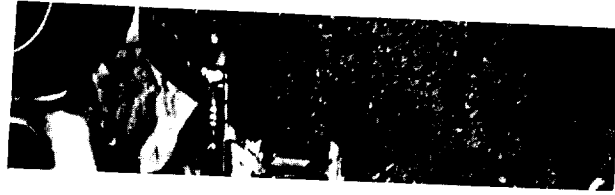

"Oh," said the undertaker. "Congratulations."

Dear Sir—I am engaged to a girl and have been informed you were seen kissing her. Please call at my frat house at 11 Friday and make an explanation.—Alf.

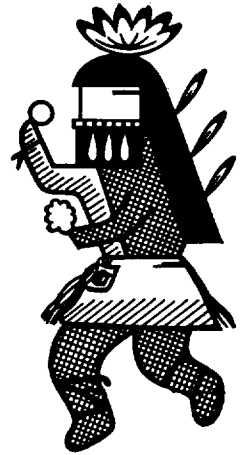

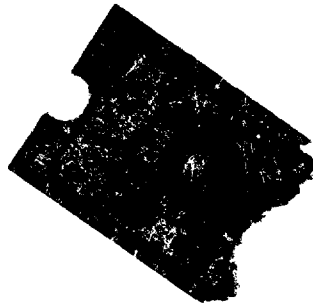

Dear Alf—I have received a copy of your circular letter and will be present at this meeting.—Red.
